WE DEDICATE THIS OUR CALYX

TO THE MANY RECENT WASHINGTON AND LEE GRAD-UATES WHO ARE NOW ACTIVELY ENGAGED IN THEIR COUNTRY'S STRUGGLE, AND TO THOSE OF US ON THE CAMPUS WHO ALSO SOON WILL BE SPIRITEDLY
DEFENDING THE IDEALS AND CONCEPTS FOR WHICH WASHINGTON AND LEE HAS SO LONG STOOD.

“ . . . CALMLY STRIDING OVER A MAJOR HILL OF LIFE CONFIDENT OF HIS PART IN DESTINY.”

THE ADMINISTRATION

DR. FRANCIS

To the Seniors:

And so you go, gentlemen of the Class of 1942, into a world that you did not even imagine on that happy day when you first invested your capacities for learning and development into the safekeeping of Washington and Lee.

May God bless you and be with you. I should make that prayer for any graduating class, but I assure you that I have in my heart a peculiar sincerity as I utter the words in your behalf.

It is a greater task that faces you than any outgoing class has known for many years. I hope you will believe it is a worthy task. It is my confidence that because of your wisdom and your character you will not spend idle hours in remorse that an older generation brought the world to an unhappy situation which you must straighten out. I am sure that because of your faith you will not dishonor yourself by a kind of fatalism which would say you have just run into bad luck.

On the contrary I have an assurance that you will know, whatever be the personal sacrifice, that it is your privilege really and truly to make a better world.

Let me urge that you keep steadfast in your heart a strong purpose for the fulfilment of your own personal dreams, and that whenever this interruption shall cease you will take up again the energetic fulfilment of the plan by which you may live most happily and most usefully. In the meantime, however, as I leave on record this farewell, I remind you that it is a great thing you set forth to do, and I know you will do your part.

PETTY

Dec. 9, 1941.

Cal Bond; Esq;
42 CALYX
Lexington, Va.

Dear Cal:

Boy- were those a bunch of beauties!

Had to don my old specks to keep the star-dust out of these old eyes, but I did have a job and am thankful now that it's all over.

Am sure it will be an honor to have you use any of our Esquire efforts as an introduction-- your engraver can reproduce any subject you might select direct from the printed page.

With every good wish for a splendid Calyx in 42, I am

Cordially yours,
George B. Petty

George B. Petty, who selected the 1942 Calyx beauties.

W&L Dances

Four times a year the Lexington scene is altered by the appearance of hundreds of girls for the dance sets which hold sway at Doremus Gymnasium. Dances have had a long history at Washington and Lee and their place of prominence is unchallenged among college social events. When the Shenandoah Valley is ablaze with autumn colors and the football spirit is in the air, openings usher in the social calendar. For many it is the first W. and L. dance and the chance to show one's prowess as a female attractor. Fancy Dress, started many years ago by Miss Annie Jo White and held in McCrum's upstairs, is now the biggest and best known of the dances. Costumes of every description and decorations appropriate to the theme recreate some scene of former splendor. This year the place was Monte Carlo; in other years it has ranged from Asia to Kentucky. After the long winter of cold and snow, the warm days of April bring Spring Dances and a feeling of informality with picnics, outdoor parties and other forms of amusement.

As any old man will readily admit, Finals is the best time of the year. School is over, girls are without chaperones, everybody will be leaving, maybe not to see each other again. It is truly a time to celebrate. From the first prom to the last sound of College Friendships it is three days of all out fun and an experience which lives long in the memory.

Taking a "fall and football" theme, the gymnasium was decorated in bright yellow, green, and red colors. Friday night's figure, the Sophomore Prom, was led by Vernon B. Millsap, class president, with Miss Peg Roney of Atlanta, Georgia. They were assisted by Louis E. Jorel and Miss Peggy Glass of Austin, Texas.

Saturday night's dance was featured by Cy Young's announcement of the fraternity winners in the homecoming decoration contest. The Cotillion Club figure was led by Arthur B. Koontz, Jr., president of Opening Dances, with Miss Lucy Page of Columbus, Ohio. They were assisted by Robert D. Gage and Miss Betty Woodward of Columbia, South Carolina.

The music was furnished by Tony Pastor and his band.

The opening of the Monte Carlo casino in 1861 furnished the theme for the 1942 Fancy Dress Ball. The figure was led by Dick Spindle, president, and his date, Miss Kitty Anderson, and featured a toast in champagne to his majesty, the King of France. The men in brilliant military or court uniforms waltzed with girls in hoop skirts to the music of Woody Herman and his orchestra.

A NIGHT AT MONTE CARLO

Monte Carlo's fabulous casino, with its crystal chandeliers, heavy French portraits, rich draperies, and tall stately columns was the setting in which Napoleon III and the Empress Eugenie welcomed royalty from over the world in 1861.

With stately dignity and worldly sophistication these characters were portrayed by the president and vice presidents with their dates. Jack Fisher and Miss Miriam Self were the Prince and Princess of Monaco. Bud Levy presented the Bey of Algiers and Miss Henri Carter was his Sultana. Johnny Raines and Miss Caroline Combs were Maximilian and Carlotta, and Charlie Didier portrayed the Prince of Wales accompanied by Miss Mary Desha as Lillian Langtry.

John Walter Stowers and Miss Martha Bowman came as King Don Francisco d'Assisi of Spain and his queen and Bud Yeomans and Miss Angie Frazer were Joseph and Elizabeth of Austria.

Thursday night's Junior Prom was led by John Goode, Junior class president, and Miss Mary Jane Lyles. Teddy Powell and his orchestra furnished the music.

Woody Herman and his "band that plays the blues" played for the Saturday concert-dansant and again that night for the O. D. K. formal.

The band lets go on "I Said No" at Woody Herman's afternoon concert.

Spring

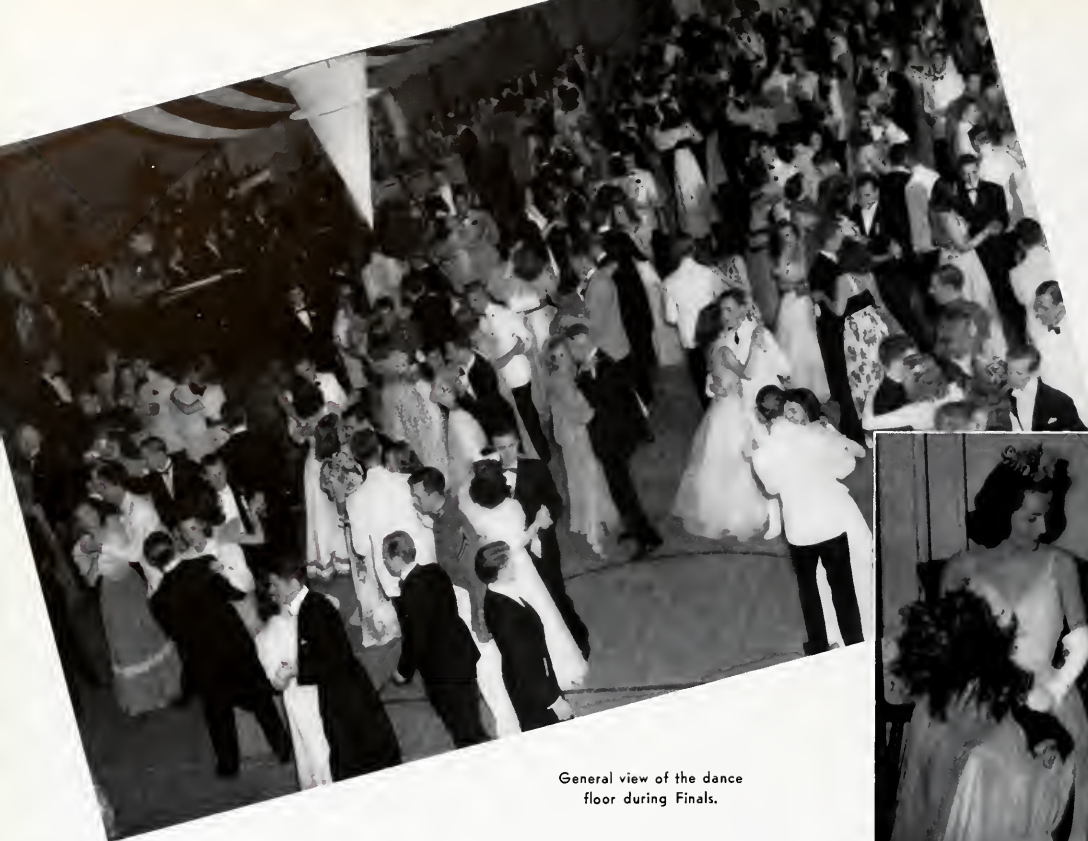

Warm weather and the feel of springtime made Spring Dance Weekend a time of much fun and gaiety. The 13 Club figure on Saturday night was led by Charlie Didier and Miss Mary Desha of Lexington.

DANCES

The Cotillion Club figure was led by Spring Dance President Robert Gage and Miss Virginia Houston of Augusta, Georgia. Abe Lyman and his orchestra furnished the music.

The memories of Jimmy Dorsey's terrific music, 6 a. m. snacks at Steve's, cold swims at Goshen, graduation for the first time outside, the beautiful Plantation Party Final Ball, and that last tearful College Friendships as the sun came up—they will remain with us forever.

to Archie Mathis

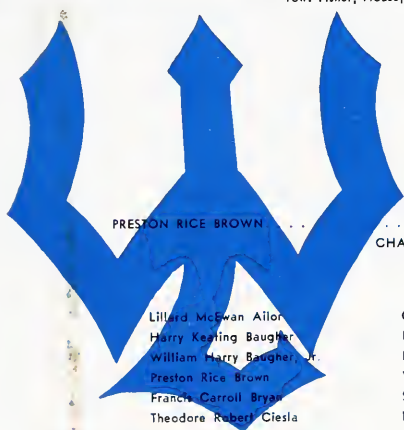

WASHINGTON AND LEE has many fine traditions. White columns, ivy-covered walls, the Honor System. Archie Mathis has placed wrestling with these others. For 17 years he has successfully coached Washington and Lee wrestling teams until today wrestling has become a by-word for Washington and Lee superiority. Coach Mathis has set a code of fellowship, sportsmanship, and the will to win for the entire student body. Boys who have come here have been graduated better men because of him, and Washington and Lee has been a better place because he was part of it.

The loss of 15 lettermen and a tough schedule foreboded for the W. & L. Generals a dark football season. Riley Smith, All-American quarterback on Alabama's 1935 Rose Bowl team was moved up into the head coaching position, and Tex Tilson, former mentor, took over line coaching in an unusual move. The team itself boasted of a strong line which outweighed any other in the state, approximately 205 pounds, but though strong on defense, the Generals lacked, to their subsequent grief, any sort of constant and strong offense. As a result the Blue entered almost every game the underdog, but they never failed to give a good account on defense and at times rolled up more formidable statistics than their opponents.

The General's first game renewed the classic 50 year old struggle with Sewanee and turned out to be a disappointing 20-19 loss. W. & L. scored in the early minutes after Bill Gray recovered a Tiger fumble. Pinck passed to Nelson twice for gains of 13 and 11 yards, respectively, and McKenna went over from the six-inch line for the first score. The second touchdown followed soon after; Cavaliere intercepted Bearden's pass on Sewanee's 14 and in the next plays, scored on a pass from Pinck. The fighting team from the University of the South retaliated, though, before the half, to score, driving from their own 38. The half over, the Generals again scored on a spectacular run of 32 yards by Teddy Ciesla; Sewanee came back almost immediately though, for its second touchdown. The Tigers began attempting desperate passes in hope of tying the score—and one clicked. Walker, with a minute to go, caught a pass from Bearden good for 35 yards and the score stood 19-19. On Sewanee's first try for the extra point, Nelson and Daves tore through the line to block the kick, but the Generals were declared offside. The next attempt was successful and the game ended 20-19.

The Generals entered the game against the University of Kentucky's powerful team decided underdogs. The game ended 7-0 with a dazed Kentucky team wondering how it managed even that score. On the first play of the game, Mullins recovered for Kentucky a blocked punt and ran 36 yards for a touchdown. Kentucky was offside so the ball was brought back. The Wildcats attempted another drive but got exactly nowhere; a fast charging and determined line kept them away from pay dirt. But in the second quarter Althaus recovered Socha's fumble and in the next play, Mullins got lose and sprinted 63 yards in a beautiful run for Kentucky's only touchdown. W. & L. then took up the march and moved 39 yards on passes until Kentucky's powerful line halted this threat and the Blue was forced to kick. During the next half the Blue staved off all threats and no serious attempt was made by Kentucky. The Generals gained 54 yards on passing to the Wildcats 16.

KENTUCKY G. W. RICHMOND

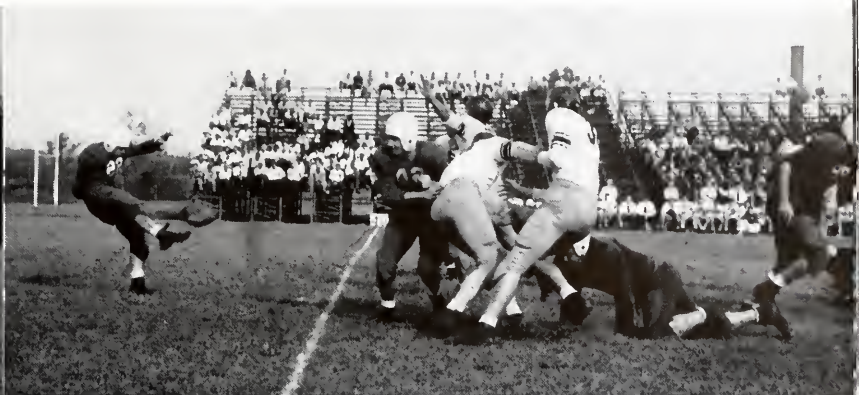

W. & L. entered the George Washington game with the loss of one of its most valuable players, Johnny Ligon, who left school for Air Corps duties. Beginning the game with a punting duel, W. & L. continued to outkick the Colonials about 10 yards on each boot. The first period was played in George Washington territory almost entirely with W. & L. showing much promise, which didn't materialize. In subsequent plays an aerial threat of the Colonials was broken up by Ed Marx and the half was over with no score on either side. Lillard Ailor in the early part of the fourth recovered a George Washington fumble on the George Washington 23, but soon the Blue kicked, being unable to generate an offensive. The game ended in a scoreless tie. The Generals' pass defense showed up well as out of 11 passes attempted by the Colonials, only one was completed. The high point of the game was Brown's punting.

At last it seemed as if the Generals had found their stride and a successful season was imminent. Definitely the team was on the upgrade; Richmond crumbled beneath a powerful W. & L. onslaught, 21-0. A punt which Pres Brown blocked and Roy Fabian recovered placed the Generals on Richmond's 15 and in scoring position. Harry Baugher, on the second play, went around right end to complete those necessary 15 yards for the first Generals' score of the game. On a brilliant run, Harry Baugher took the second half kick-off on his own 15 and streaked 85 yards for the second Blue touchdown. In subsequent plays Teddy Ciesla, intercepting a Spider pass, started the Generals rolling again. From the 40 the Blue marched to the Richmond eight and Socha made good a field goal; the score now stood 15-0. Later, Baugher, taking a kick from Lawler, gained 23 yards; Ed Marx plowed through Richmond's sturdy forewall for three more, and Frank Socha hit the line for the final score of the game. The game ended with W. & L. victors for the first time in the season on the big end of 21-0.

The 13-3 loss to VPI was particularly disappointing because of the promise the much improved W. & L. team had shown in the Richmond game. The first score came when McClure of VPI kicked a field goal from the W. & L. 41. The Generals immediately retaliated with Joe Baugher carrying the pigskin 21 yards to VPI's 6, and from there Frank Socha tied the score by kicking a goal for W. & L. The Gobblers showed their power in a 36 yard run and a long pass to score again late in the first quarter. The Nelson struggling to hold completed pass as V. P. I. backs attempt to stop him.

Blue came back in the second half and had things pretty much their own way, Baugher's brilliant 53 yard run being the high point of the game. Statistics show that W. & L. rang up eight first downs to VPI's four; completed seven forward passes to the Gobblers' three; intercepted two aerials to their one; and gained 98 yards on passes to the Gobblers' 80.

A rather bruised team, again the underdogs, fought West Virginia to a close 7-6 score. W. & L. scored early on a line plunge by Frank Socha. Harry Baugher had passed to Nelson on the Mountaineers' 12 yard stripe, and after three unsuccessful downs, Socha attempted a field goal—which failed. Luckily for the Generals, an offside penalty was called on the Mountaineers and the ball was advanced to the two yard line. On the next snap, Socha went over left end for a Blue score. The Mountaineers were held by the strong defensive playing of the Generals until the last six minutes of the game when West Virginia scored in a last desperate attempt. The Mountaineers' threats came in the form of a blocked punt and a lateral for a touchdown. The extra point spelled another sad loss for the Generals.

W. & L. entered the Wahoo game decided underdogs and was crippled by the recent loss of Joe Littlepage, who had entered government service. But the Generals put up such a remarkable exhibition of fight and determination that the powerful Virginia team was absolutely stymied in the second half and All-American Bill Dudley stopped completely. The first half was very much in Virginia's favor with Dudley et al. ringing up 27 on W. & L.'s liability sheet; the second half was a different story—and it looked as if it were a different game, too. The Generals forgot about the 27 marks against them and, virtually pushing Dudley off the field, outplayed the Cavaliers in every department. W. & L.'s score occurred after Russell's shifty running had moved the ball from his own 22 to the 45 yard line. He then kicked, and the ball hit, rolled up to the one foot line, wobbled, and stopped. Dudley attempted to kick out from behind his own goal line, but Nelson, tearing open the Wahoo fore-wall, smeared the kick, and Brown, crashing through the line from the other end, fell on the ball for W. & L.'s score. Bill Gray made good the extra point. From then on W. & L. continued its comeback, but lacking an All-American in its backfield, failed to reduce the Virginia margin. Statistics show that W. & L. rung up 10 first downs to Virginia's two in the second half and boasted of a passing record of 10 out of 27 aerials completed. At the end of the game the tally stood W. & L. 11 first downs to the Cavaliers' nine; Virginia with the loss of 12 yards attempting to pass and W. & L. just eight. With four seconds to play, the Generals were seriously threatening again. The game ended with the Blue on the one-inch line and with two downs to go.

On Wilson field before homecoming spectators, W. & L. battled the Davidson Wildcats for a 13-13 tie. Davidson, with its full strength for the first time since its opening game, scored first, marching straight down the field for 67 yards. The Generals though, almost taken off their feet by this Davidson onslaught, came back quickly to score. Baugher passed 12 yards to Frank Socha for the first Blue touchdown, and in the early part of the second half, Baugher returning a punt, eluded his would-be tacklers and sprinted down the field 78 yards for another touchdown. Davidson scored again in the fourth quarter on a line plunge by Frederick to even the tally. As the final whistle blew, W. & L. was staving off Davidson's desperate attempts to score again.

The last game of the season turned out to be a disappointing 6-0 defeat. Pres Brown again gave W. & L. advantage with his magnificent boots, and was the best punter on the field. After some exchange of punts, Duvall ran back the ball for 27 yards for the only score of the game; with that exception, W. & L.'s defense kept back Maryland's threats. In the first half Joe and Harry Baugher stole the show in punt returning—Joe bringing back the ball 36 yards once from his own 10. A few minutes later, Harry caught a quick kick and brought the ball back from his own 10 to the Terps' 48 in an outstanding brokenfield run. As the game ended, W. & L.

was holding another Terps' score attempt at the goal line.

With the record of six losses, two ties, and one win, one of the worst seasons that the Generals had ever suffered came to a close. Many times one point or one play meant the difference between win or lose. Tough breaks, poor play calling, and momentary defensive lulls contributed to blackening a season that had more bright spots than the won and loss record signifies.

SOUTHERN CONFERENCE TOURNAMENT

W. and L.	41; Duke	59

Washington and Lee's basketball team, considered a pre-season "weak sister" in the Virginia and Southern Conference cage circles because they had only two returning lettermen, came through in commendable style to finish second to William and Mary in the "Big Six" race and clinch a berth in the Conference tournament with a .500 average against loop foes.

The major reason for the Generals' won-and-lost record of .400 was the poor start which saw the Blue drop their first six clashes. In starting Coach "Cookie" Cunningham's third and last season as W. and L. basketball coach, the Generals lost their first two games to the bearded men of the House of David. After losing to Western Kentucky Teachers, Xavier, Evansville College, and Kentucky in the first four games of their Christmas trip, W. and L. broke the losing streak by edging out Morris Harvey. Incidentally, Western Kentucky was second only to West Virginia in the National Invitation Tournament at Madison Square Garden and Kentucky went on to win the Southeastern Conference title.

After the Christmas holidays the Blue settled down and concentrating against "Big Six" and Conference rivals split even in the final 18 games of the season.

In their first game after the holidays, Sophomore Clancy Ballenger made his initial appearance in the limelight as he led the General hardfloorers to a victory over Virginia Tech when he scored 15 points. Later in the same week, Cunningham's men faltered after leading at halftime and lost to William and Mary by a narrow margin.

Rebounding, the Blue took Virginia, V. P. I., Richmond, and Maryland in successive games. Captain Ed Cuttino was the shining light as the Generals whipped the Wahoos in an overtime clash. Against Maryland it was the squad's other letterman, Leo Signaigo, who set the offensive pace.

Meeting Wake Forest in Lynchburg, the Blue had their four-game winning streak stopped by the Deacons, who ranked with the best in the Conference. The Generals tripped Maryland again and then came the toughest assignments of the season and W. and L. went into a four-game losing string.

Duke, who repeated their 1941 Conference championship performance, overwhelmed the Blue twice, and North Carolina and the Virginia squad gained the other victories in this streak. The Wahoo loss was particularly bitter because the Blue Comets had downed Virginia in Charlottesville earlier in the campaign.

After the Virginia loss, W. and L. pulled a reversal and defeated both Furman and William and Mary. The defeat of W. and M. placed the Generals on top of the "Big Six" heap, but the following night Richmond allowed her Indian rival to take the "Big Six" melon when they dropped the Blue.

In a pair of anti-climax games, W. and L. split even. They lost to George Washington, 49-36, in their final Conference tussle, but backed into the Tournament when Wake Forest knocked Furman out of the running. Later in the same week, the Generals came through over Hampden-Sydney. By defeating the Tigers, a non-"Big Six" state school, the Blue can lay claim to the state championship, as William and Mary lost to the Tigers.

Taking second place in the "Big Six," the Blue won five and lost three games. They whipped Virginia Tech twice and divided a pair with Virginia, Richmond, and William and Mary.

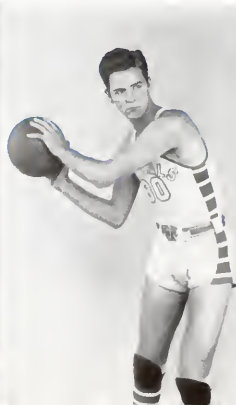

In addition to the Virginia members of the Conference, W. and L. defeated Maryland twice and Furman once. Losses in Conference warfare were suffered to Duke twice, Wake Forest, North Carolina, and George Washington. The Blue's Conference mark was seven wins and seven losses.

At the Conference Tournament at Raleigh, North Carolina, the Generals drew Duke as their first assignment. Although they came within two points of tying the score in the first half, the Generals finally succumbed, 59-41. Signaigo set the Blue offensive in motion with 14 points against the Blue Devils.

Those who were standouts for the Blue during the 1942 season were Ballenger, Signaigo, and Cuttino, captain of the team. Ballenger, as a sophomore, made the second team All-Virginia as selected by the "Big Six" coaches for the Associated Press and Signaigo was named to the honorable mention list.

Signaigo, who scored 34 points in the final two games of the season, tallied just three fewer than 200 points for the season. Trailing close behind was Ballenger, who led in the scoring race until Signaigo's final spurt. Cuttino, with 130 points, and Sophomore Leon Harris, with 107, were the other Generals who broke the 100 mark. Bill Bryan tallied 97, Harry Baugher made 88, George Wood chalked up 46, Jack Roehl was good for 10, and the remaining seven were scored by Sophomore Don Johnston.

All of the Blue squadmen were sophomores with the exception of Cuttino and Signaigo. Indications point to a promising 1943 season with the sophomores mostly figured to return to school next year.

At the conclusion of the season the squad elected Signaigo, who comes from Welch, West Virginia, their 1943 captain.

Jack Roehl adds two points to the Generals' total when he sinks one against Richmond in a "Big Six" encounter.

Harris engages in an under-the-basket tussle for the ball in the Southern Conference Tournament game at Raleigh, N. C., against Duke's defending titlists.

WRESTLING

Washington and Lee's varsity wrestlers added another impressive season to Coach Archie Mathis' 17-year record at W. and L. when they won all six of their matches in this, Mathis' last, season here.

Bud Robb, the Generals' 128-pound grappler, who took scoring honors during the regular season, and Captain Tom Fuller, undefeated in dual meets in four seasons at W. and L., led the Blue through an unbeaten year. Fuller took the Southern Conference 136-pound championship at Greensboro, North Carolina, and Robb was second in his weight.

Four other General wrestlers lost only once during the regular season. They were Sam Graham, 121-pounder, who lost to John McCarthy of V. P. I. in the final match of the season after five unbeaten years; Doug House, Bob Schellenberg, and Lillard Ailor.

Three sophomores who helped the W. and L. cause and won monograms were Jim Evans, Dave Embry, and Ed Waddington. Evans won both times he wrestled, Embry took third place in the Conference Tournament, and Waddington lost only to Northwestern's captain, Dick Trubey, and Carter of Davidson. Although they never wrestled in matches, both Tom Sweeney and Ned Lawrence contributed toward a successful season.

After winning from Apprentice, 28-0, the Blue continued their victorious march against N. C. State, whom they defeated 24-8. Only Roger Soth and Ailor lost in that meet. With first semester exams over the Generals went into their stiffest competition when they tackled North Carolina and Northwestern in three days.

Against Carolina, Graham, Robb, and Fuller won their matches, but then the Tarheels tied the score at 11-11 when Embry, House, and Schellenberg lost. Waddington and Ailor clinched the match with narrow decision victories. This win avenged a 1941 loss to the Tarheels. The following Monday night the Blue gained a decisive 27-3 victory over Northwestern's team which was on a tour of the East. Graham and Embry won on forfeits, and Fuller, Robb, House, Schellenberg, and Ailor also accounted for points.

The following week the Generals concluded their season with a 24-8 victory over Davidson and a 22-6 triumph against the Gobblers from Blacksburg.

Then came the Conference Tournament at Greensboro, and only Fuller of the four W. and L. defending champions, was able to keep his crown. Robb and Ailor took second place honors, Embry was third at his weight, and House, Schellenberg, and Waddington took fourth places.

In relinquishing the Conference title they won in 1941, the Generals were third in the tournament with 22 points. Carolina, the champion, had 30 points, and V. M. I. scored 28. Other teams participating at Greensboro were V. P. I., Duke, Davidson, N. C. State, and Maryland.

At the conclusion of the regular season, the squad elected Robb and Graham as co-captains for 1943.

Coach Mathis, who has resigned after 17 years at Washington and Lee, left behind him a record that speaks for itself. During those 17 years he had nine unbeaten teams, 11 conference champions, and "his boys" won 138, lost 33, and tied 2, varsity and freshman, to give Mathis a winning average of .807.

Washington and Lee's 1941 baseball team enjoyed a better than average year although the statistics showed eight wins, eleven losses, and one tie. Opening with a 3-3 deadlock with Lynchburg College, the Generals were none too impressive and showed much need for practice. After losing three straight to the U. S. Naval Training Station, Wake Forest, and Duke, the Blue bounded back with a 5-4 win over North Carolina State with Bob Gregerson pitching. However, the winning streak was stopped short by Michigan in the next game, 8-10. With Virginia in the following game the Generals were in top form. Led by Johnny Ligon and excellent infield play- ing, they gained a deserved 4-2 win.

The remainder of the season saw W. & L. improving and overcoming much of the unsteadiness which hampered her earlier. After being tied for the State Championship, they were able to stop a rally from Virginia Tech and win 8-6. Bob Gregerson pitched. But this standing could not be maintained; and, after defeating Morris Harvey, the Generals suffered a 19-3 walloping by Virginia, putting them second in Big Six standings.

The final game saw W. & L. win from Virginia Tech 6-0 and left the Generals in second place among the Big Six, one-half game behind William and Mary. This game marked the end of Bob Gary's collegiate competition and a fitting farewell to one of Washington and Lee's great athletes.

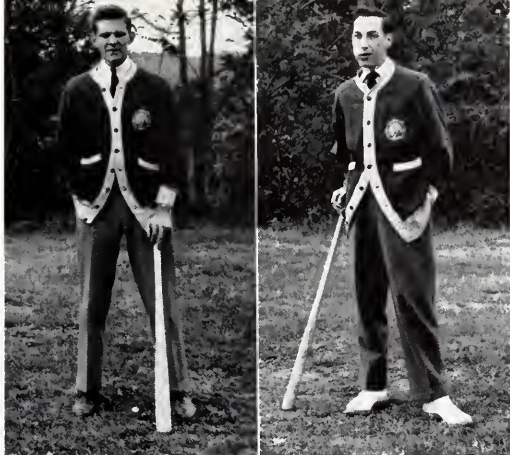

Johnny Ligon rounds third on his way to score.

Tennis at Washington and Lee has always been a popular sport, but it was not until Fred Perry took over the responsibility of coaching the netmen that a new enthusiastic interest was born, and the students were quick to fall behind an inspired team. Perry, in his brilliant career on the courts, both in amateur and professional fields, developed a game that made him one of the outstanding figures of the tennis world. Coming to the campus in the middle of the season to coach a team that had lost five straight matches, he turned over his able leadership and experience to the squad which won six out of the next seven matches. Paced by Captain Pinck and the steady, accurate doubles combination of Dickie Spindle and Jack Mallory, a successful season was rounded out with nine Mallory teamed with Spindle to advance to the semi-finals of the Eastern Collegiate Invitational Tournament at the end of the season.

During the season a number of Perry's friends, leaders of amateur and professional tennis circles, came to the campus to give exhibitions.

With only five lettermen returning for action, the Blue tankmen closed a season of one win and four losses. With a team made up mostly of sophomores, the mermen won over William and Mary, but were beaten by North Carolina State, V. P. I., Duke, and North Carolina. Two other meets, scheduled with South Carolina and Clemson, were cancelled and the excellent chance of winning the McKelway and Webster churn through the water at the start of the backstroke event.

Big Six was shattered when V. M. I. called off the state meet. The outstanding performer of the squad was Bill Webster, who chalked up four wins and only a single loss in the backstroke event. Webster came within two-tenths of a second of breaking the pool record in the opening meet with N. C. State and his consistently winning stroke nets him top individual honors for the season. The crack relay team composed of Murdock, Garretson, and Webster won three meets, succumbing to Duke and North Carolina, while sophomore Bill McKelway turned in four seconds in the backstroke and 50-yard dash events. Lacking diving material, Coach Cy Twombly depended solely on Frank Goodpasture to garner points in this event. At V. P. I. soph Bob Mehorter broke a pool record in the breaststroke by pushing V. P. I.'s Saunders to a narrow margin of victory. At William and Mary Bill Babcock and Jim Priest turned in two victories in the 60 and 100-yard dashes and 220 and 440 free style, respectively. In the latter event Lynch Christian turned in an excellent record for the season. Lack of good free style material and the loss of Captain Evans Jasper proved a definite handicap to Cy. After the final meet, Webster was elected captain of next year's squad.

CY TWOMBLY, Director of Intramurals

INTRAMURALS

The Intramural Sports program is the extra-curricular activity division of the Department of Physical Education and is conducted by the Intramural Board. The board is at present composed of three students and three faculty members. Gustave Essig, Joe Baugher and Bob Lawton represent the student body and Forest Fletcher, Cy Twombly and Archie Mathis the faculty. The general aims of the Intramural Sports program at Washington and Lee are the creation of interest in recreational sports and participation in them by the mass of students, regardless of their skill and ability.

Intramural sports have been on a steady upgrade under the supervision of Cy Twombly. Cy has been largely responsible for the increased interest in the eleven intramural sports which run from the first of October until the end of school and he has maintained the standards of fair play and honesty in every respect.

Recognition in the school paper and the giving of points to the organization represented tend to stimulate the competitive spirit among the eighteen social fraternity groups and the non-fraternity union. Three sports, handball, tennis and golf, provide an excellent opportunity for displaying individual ability and in which several hundred students usually participate. Individual achievements are recognized by the all-intramural teams picked for each separate sport.

FOOTBALL

The football championship was won by the powerful Beta machine captained by Ed Boyd, who, with the help of Hank Woods, Jack Barrie and others, ran up a total of 155 points against its opposition in matches against the Sigma Nus, Sigma Chis, Kappa Sigs, Deltas and Phi Psis. The Phi Kappa Psi team had turned back the P. E. P.'s, Phi Kaps, and A. T. O.'s to enter the finals.

In the consolation championship playoff, the S. A. E.'s barely got by a strong Phi Delta team, winning out 6-0.

VOLLEYBALL

With most of its last year's team back, the P. E. P.'s captured the volleyball crown for the second year by defeating the Betas in two straight games. The P. E. P.'s had defeated the Sigma Chis, PiKA's and Phi Deltas to reach the finals.

In the consolation championship playoff a stubborn N. F. U. team forced the Phi Kaps to the limit to win out by a 2-1 score.

BASKETBALL

A thrilling 23-19 win over the Sigma Nus enabled the S. A. E.'s to win the championship basketball title. Captained by Jack McCormick, the winning team previously defeated the Pi Phis, Betas, and Phi Psis. The Sigma Nus won over the Phi Kaps, Phi Deltas, and PiKA's to enable them a crack at the championship.

A fast Phi Gam five won an exciting game from the Deltas to give them the consolation championship.

Syd Lewis carries on P. E. P.'s attack.

Jim Daves, Sigma Nu, tries a lay-up shot in the intramural championship game with the S. A. E's.

PING PONG

With Ed Cuttino, Bob Gaines, and Bill McKelway burning up the table, the Delt team had little difficulty in capturing the ping pong championship. Defeating the Z. B. T.'s, Phi Psis, and Betas, the Deltas easily turned back the Pi K. A.'s in the playoffs. The Pi K. A.'s had won over the Phi Kaps, P. E. P.'s, and Sigma Nus.

The Phi Kaps had to go five games before they could claim victory over the Lambda Chis in the consolation playoff, winning by a 3-2 score.

HANDBALL

Tyke Bryan, PiKA's, captured the intramural handball tournament by winning over Gus Essig, N. F. U., in three consecutive games by scores of 21-4, 21-6, and 11-0. Bryan entered the final round with a semi-final win over Bob Lawton, Phi Delt, and a quarter-final decision over Luke Smith, Phi Delt. Essig scored a semi-final win over Dick Brunn, PiKA's, and triumphed over George Harrison, Kappa Sig, in the quarter-finals.

The Betas received 40 points for handball, PiKA's, 39, and Deltas 25.

SWIMMING

A well balanced Delt team swept away most of the honors against a strong field of contenders in a fast-moving swimming match in winning the medley and the 200-yard free style relay. Cuttino, Delt, won the backstroke, and Gaines, Delt, finished first in the 100-yard dash. The Phi Kaps were second with 18 points, the S. A. E.'s third with 16, followed by the Phi Psis with 11 points. Deltas' total score was 39.

TOM FULLER, 1941 Tennis Champion

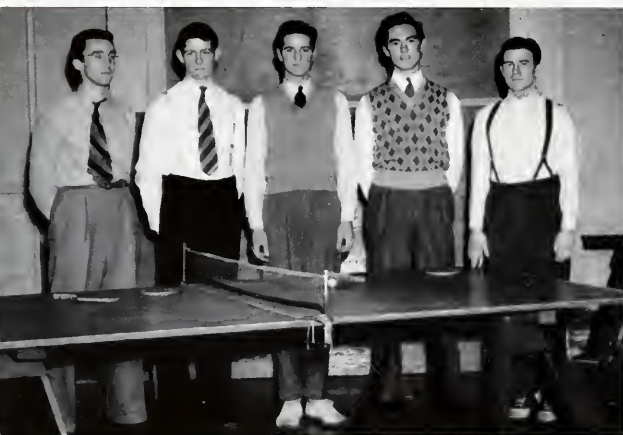

Cuttino, Delt, returns one to Gourdon, Pi K. A., as the Delts surmount their final obstacle in winning the 1942 intramural ping pong championship.

Tyke Bryan, Pi K. A., 1942 handball champion.

Sibley, McKelway, Cuttino, Gaines, and Welch.

I N T R A M

WRESTLING

The Delts, with Bill McKelway taking the 165-pound championship, won the 1942 title with 55 points. Tied for second-place honors were the Sigma Chis and Phi Psis, both with 42 points.

Both the Phi Psis and Sigma Nus had two individual winners.

GOLF

Wally Cronin, N. F. U., had to defeat a strong field of candidates to claim the 1941 intramural golf title. Simmons, Phi Kap; Sibley, Delt, and Goodpasture, S. N., were in the playoffs.

TRACK

A well balanced Beta team captured the 1941 track title with a total of 43.3 points. Runner-up positions were taken by the Phi Delts with 31 points and the Sigma Nus with 22.3 points. Individual winners were: Hood, S. A. E., 100-yard dash; Bryan, Phi Delt, low hurdles; Armstrong, S. N., high hurdles; Johnston, A. T. O., javelin; Keller, S. N., high jump. The Phi Psis won the mile relay in 3:49 establishing a new record.

Ellis Work, S. A. E., winning intramural diving honors.

Delt Swimming Champions, Welch, Cuttino, Gaines, Redmond.

Three of the intramural wrestling contestants weigh in before the start of the 1942 tourney.

U R A L S

BASEBALL

The A. T. O.'s defeated a strong N. F. U. team in winning the 1941 intramural baseball title. They had previously defeated the Phi Kaps, the PiKA's, and S. N.'s. The N. F. U. team had turned back the Z. B. T.'s, Phi Psis, S. A. E.'s, and P. E. P.'s.

The DU's won over the P. E. P.'s for the consolation playoffs.

TENNIS

Tom Fuller, Phi Psi, had to take the last two sets in his match against Baker, Phi Delt, to claim the 1941 tennis championship. Fuller defeated Davis, L. X., in the semi-finals while Baker won over Cuttino, Delt, to get to the finals. The K. A.'s won 50 points; Delts, 41; L. X.'s, 17, in the 1941 race. This year a great deal more interest has been shown and there has been a large field of contenders. The Phi Psis, K. A.'s, Delts, and L. X.'s should be in the play-off, the Delts having gained the most points in the preliminary rounds.

DU Baseball Team Chalks Up Another Victory.

This professional publication, produced semi-annually by the School of Law, has been in existence for three years. It is composed of special articles by prominent jurists, legal notes, and recent case commentaries. The bulk of the contributions are student work under faculty supervision. Roughly, it might be said, that a law review does to the voluminous mass of reported litigation, what the Reader's Digest does to the field of periodical literature—a process of selection, digestion, and analysis. All of the student staff are scholars from the highest ranks in the intermediate and senior law classes. The scholastic leader of the senior law class is automatically the Editor. The two Assistant Editors are those next in rank.

The

The ambition of several months' work was achieved when Washington and Lee's Varsity Show was presented December 13 and 14. Paul Thomas and Bill Nutt wrote the music and lyrics and Tom Fuller presented the book. The directorial assignment was handled by Dusty Miller and the New York stage director, Lee Collins. A precision chorus from Southern Seminary, a voodoo "Dance of Desire" number and numerous other features made the show a fast, slick and unqualified success. Such tunes as "Debutante Blues," "My Consolation," "Heel from Mobile" still remain in Lexington's air.

It was two years ago when Ross Hersey revived the Washington and Lee Varsity Show, which many years back had been one of the year's biggest events. The enthusiasm resulting from that effort made possible this year's show, and it is hoped that the Washington and Lee Varsity Show will obtain a fixed position, not having to be revived again.

Varsity Show

The leads of "Say It Again" were given to these capable actors:

Porter McCauley as John.
Phyllis Tappen as the debutante.
Joe Zamoiski as Uncle Louie.
Lorrain Wolfe as the dowager.
Dawson Waring as the playboy.
Marjorie Shopp as the widow.
J. Elliot McCauley as the Russian.
Betty Beavers as the secretary.
